All the news that's fit to fire.

Next meeting Sunday, June 3rd
at Al Jaeger's, 12 Perry Rd., Deerfield, NH

Chairman's Message

Spring Greetings Everyone! At least I hope it's really Spring! It was so nice to see many of you at my home/studio in April! It's taken me a bit of adjusting but I feel like I'm hitting my stride with our new website. Between Claire Provencher, Lee Ustinich, and me, we are able to keep it updated with our NHPG activities, as well as those of our members. Here's a link: <https://www.nhpottersguild.org/>

Please take the time to check it out and, if you haven't already, please join or renew your membership and send in your bio and photos. While you are visiting the website please take special note of the events posted on the "Annual Calendar". We have a wood preparation work day scheduled for Saturday, May 12th, and many hands make light work!

Be sure to read through all the information in this newsletter. There are a number of cool opportunities and important announcements that may interest you!

Our next meeting will be held on Sunday, June 3rd at Al Jaeger's home and studio, 12 Perry Rd., Deerfield, NH. Officers will meet at 1:00, the general membership meeting is at 2:00 and then the POTLUCK! Please bring a dish to share and your own place setting.

I'm looking forward to seeing you all at Al's!

Sincerely yours,
Lori Rollason

Squam Lakes Artisans

Dear Artisan,

On behalf of Squam Lakes Artisans (SLA), we would like to let you know that we are seeking new member- artisans. SLA will be opening in late May for its thirteenth season. The gallery will be relocating to Center Harbor as the time has come for the old inn on the grounds of the Squam Lake Natural Science Center in Holderness to be renovated.

At our new location we will continue to feature a diverse mix of quality fine art and handcrafted items offered for sale directly by artisans. The new venue provides some welcomed opportunities for the membership including the flexibility to be open daily through December and Fridays through Mondays, January through April. Also the footprint of the new retail outlet offers space to open membership to additional artisans and for member-artisans to offer workshops.

To schedule an appointment to jury or to learn more about participation in the coop, please email your information to squamlakesartisans@metrocast.net or contact Michael Moon at 603-254-5660. Categories include, but are not limited to, clay, glass, wood, metal, fiber, jewelry, photography, watercolor, oils, and mixed media. The jurying committee, in order to ensure a diversity of work, may limit the number of artisans working in a particularly medium. For more information about the gallery: squamlakesartisans.com.

Maine Pottery Tour

Family, Friends and best customers are invited on Friday May 4th 5-7pm to the opening reception for the Southern Maine Clay Guild show as part of the Maine Pottery Tour.

Come for the food,wine, song and an exclusive first peek at the pottery show!
